Frenklin progressiveness made it possible.

Franklin engineers saw the great forward strides of aviation. They saw, too, the encharing traditions that were holding back motor car design. The introduction of an airplanetype engine in a motor car is a logical step-one that begins a new ero in verily finer performance-one that definitely places Franklin in the foremast position among medem meter cers.

A Chance to "find Out"---

Not a family, one might say, ever went through housecleaning or moving, without having at least SOMETHING to buy at a furniture store.

It might be only a strip of linoleum, some window shades, a small rug or an odd piece of furniture: but WHATEVER it may be, we invite you to try Schaffner's this time.

It may be only a bottle of furniture polish, but if it is you will find our salesmen as much interested to serve you as though you wished to buy a hving room suite, or some other large purchase.

This is a good time to try Schaffner service, Schaffner business methods. Schaffner policies and Schaffner credit.

We would be glad to show you our new Drapery Department.

Week before last the Cleveland Electric Hinminating company announced reduced rates to its consumers in Ashtabula and last week the Lake Shore Gas company announced a similar cut no there, the annual saving to the community as the result of the two cuts being estimated at $800,000. Let us hope that if any of our public utilities contemplate anything of the kind they will prepare us for it. Some of us may unknowingly have weak hearts.

Russia Leads in Unemployment.

It is a very significant fact, and one to which the poor dupes of communistic Russia throughout the world would do well to give heed, that, although "unemployment" demonstrations directed and financed by Moscow were staged in almost all the leading lands of Europe and North and South America last Thursday, no demonstrations of the kind were reported from soviet Russla.

This was not because Russia is free from unemployment. As a matter of fact, there are more unemployed in Russia than in all the other countries of Europe combined, nossibly more than exists in Europe, aside from Russia, and both the Americas. Figures compiled in the international labor office in Geneva from official soviet statistics and verified by data gathered by the central bureau of the Socialist and Labor international show that there are at present at least 7,000,000 and very probably 10,000,-000 unemployed in Russia, 2,000,000 of whom are industrial workers out of a total of approximately $.000,000 who have been at one time or another in recent years employed in industry there. The remaining millions are agricultural laborers.

The explanation is that unemployment demonstrations are not permitted in Russia. Those who have attempted to make such demonstrations have been classed "counterrevolutionaries" and ruthlessly ridden and cut/down by bolshevik cavalry. Those who merely utter protest against present-day conditions there are lailed, or sent to prison bibition law, a charge being that they stored camps or exiled to Siberia. It is estimated that there are from 75,000 to 100,000 political prisoners. "workers" and peasants alike, in the jails and prison camps of Russia and the number is being steadily angmented despite the executions of such prisoners which have become a daily occurrence. Soviet Russia has a so-called unemployment insurance system, but only a small proportion of the workers can take advantage of it, preference being given to official party workers. The rest are left to live the best they can which means for thousands upon thousands of them to starve. And such were the conditions in Russia when it sent $1,250,000 to the United States. to stage the demonstrations of Thursday against unemployment in lands under "hourgeoise" governments "where capitalism has its foot on the neck of downtrodden labor." And such was the Russian situation when the demonstrations here in the United States. Thursday, which soviet Russia hoped would incite riots and anarchy, proved to be duds.

William Howard Taft.

His failing health prepared the country for the death of William Howard Taft, but in no way served to lessen the national sorrew at his passing, and today his hur land mourns and the outside world feels that regret which ever attends the taking of one whose eminence and achievements have received worldwide recognition.

To Mr. Talt came the unique honor of having been the one map in our history as a nation to attain alike the presidency and the chief justiceship of the country. Many honors in addition to these were his. It may be said that he held more places of high honor than were ever achieved by any other American. That the great majority of these were bis by appointment, speaks the more highly of his worth and ability as a men and an official. In this day, many win elective office without necessarily being either worthy of or qualified for them, but when any man is time and again appointed to high places of trust and confidence, it must be taken as a tribute beyond all question to worth and ability.

William Howard Talt was intensely human, and thus must have appreciated the bonor of the places of preferment which were his. No human-being could fail to appreciate the distinction which comes by reason of his election to the presidency or through his appolotment as chief justice of the United States, much less one who has been bonored by elevation to both those high places. Yet, If those who pass on are conscious of the feeling which marks their passing, the late chief justice must realize that a far greater honor than any bestowed on him by ballot or by executive selection was that public confidence in him which causes the nation today in its mourning to think more of the big, manly, generous man who has gone than of the many-times official who has passed. Today the nation feels the loss of a longtime eminent figure in its public life, but far more it (ecls the loss of one to whom it gave its esteem, and faith, and trust, and ever and always found him worthy of their bestowal.

A federal court in Providence has turned over to the coast guard the runs-runner, Black Duck, in the seizure of which three of her crew were killed and a fourth wounded. which may be taken to indicate that the seizure was justified and that the dead and wounded invited the fates which befell them.

"Footproof" baby blimps to sell for $1,000 and capable of carrying an ordinary Amerlean family are being turned out near Atlantic City. Canada has 205,000,000 bushels of wheat in storage compared with 185,000,000 at this time last year, walting for a market abroad. Where the Canadlan wheat growers played in hard luck is that they didn't have a farm board to pay a tou-cent advance over the market to stabilize the price and charge the loss up to the public.

The Mon. James Hamilton Lewis, of Chicago, he of the nurora berealis whiskers, has announced his condidacy for the Democratic nomination for the United States senate. This may be said for the former senator; he is a man of education and high esteem, of unquestioned integrity and a gentleman withal. Democracy by nominating him, would honor itself and offer a candidate to meet the senate need for men of high standing.

The designer of the million-dollar memorial to be erected at Vincennes. Indiana, to commemorate the capture of Fort Sackville from the British by George Rogers Clark, the Northwest ploneer, is something of a tribute to the genius of the designer of the Harding memorial south of the city, the exterior treatment of the two is so much the same.

Canada réduced her debt from $2,362,-$52,341 in 1928 to $2,304,594,222 to 1929. National debt reduction seems to have become a matter of habit here in North America. It will be interesting to know in this connection if the Canadian provinces and population centers went to the other extreme as did our states and municipalities.

Down in Jacksonville. Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood

BY JUDD M. LEWIS THE winter is going all right. It is sort of backing out like the rat backs across the rug when Annabelle Lee is pulling it by the tall. It is banging on every way it knows how and sinking its claws into everything it passes, but it has get to go, and it wouldn't hurt its tail so much if it went casy: A cut and a winter is like a lishhook, it goes in easy but comes out hard. Yesterday was Sunday when I weke up and let Jubilee down by the rope in his teeth, and I was thinking about the rotten turnly someone with, and I made up my mind that I had ought to be alad that it was retten, for if it had been fresh and as big as it was and was flang as hard it might have knocked my ears loose, and I would have looked funny going through life with my core hanging down like a bound dor-When I was milking the cove and the bunch were all there they were whispering and suickering, and if there is anything that makes me nerrous it is having kids do that, and then Nibs said. Thomas Aristides, I hear someone soaked you in the neck with a turnip." "You heard wrong; it was worse than that. It was a rotten turnin." Then all of us laughed at Nibs. I said that maybe I had forgot to meution it, but could make the fella's beels break his neck that had finng the turnip. The Lost Bag of Tripe enid. "Aw, you always want to fight!" I told him if I never fit anyone but the fells that would soak a friend behind his back with a turnip I wouldn't get many fights, and be said, "Aw, if you'd been looking the other way I'd have seaked you in the face Then he saw what he had said and almost tore the doors down getting out of the larn. It don't sound right to say a fells saw what he had said any more than it would to say be heard what he saw, but I didn't make our language.

When my ant got me washed she said I looked sweet enough to kiss, and I think she was going to kles one but Feeble asted her why she didn't wash her own face, and my mother told Feeble she shouldn't talk that way to grown-ups because it sounded sassy. Feeble looked crosseyed and kept her face shut. My mother was right. No one should talk sassy to anyone they sin't big enough to lick. Today was Monday and it will be the long vacation before so very long and I will be so happy I would kick up my heels like a cow turned out to grass if I had front feet to stand on whitst I had done it.
